It is the promised land for every NFL team and their fans. Without a doubt the most desired sporting attraction, but unfortunately one of the most difficult to attend. Super Bowl packages purchased through the NFL start at $5000 per person. If you are an NFL season ticket holder you can purchase tickets by winning a lottery at the face value price range between $800 and $2700. Ticket brokers typically offer tickets between $2,500 and $3000 with last years game setting a record with an average price of $4300 per ticket. For most people, the cost of tickets alone is enough to block attending without consideration to the cost and availability of hotel and transportation to the game. For this reason, the Super Bowl Party has thrived! Usually thrown by a friendly host, a local pub, or the confine of your own living room. Perhaps there is an alternative, something a bit more exciting than Super Bowl Weekend at home and certainly less costly than going to the game. We have a better idea, Join us for Super Bowl Weekend in Las Vegas!
